

Friends of the York County Library Joann Woods McMaster Volunteer of the Year Award

Guidelines

The award was established in 2005 in honor of Joann W. McMaster for her efforts in founding the Friends of York County organization and serving as its first president. The award is designed to honor individuals who have contributed to the Friends and/or the York County Library at an extraordinary level of dedication.

Examples of this type of outstanding service include:

- Exceptional service to a specific library department or branch
- Significant time and effort to friend-raising and fundraising
- Superior leadership
- Support of the Friends of the York County Library mission:

The purpose of Friends of the York County Library shall be to maintain an association of persons interested in libraries; to focus public attention on the York County Library; to stimulate the use of the library's resources and services; to receive and encourage gifts, endowments and bequests to the York County Library; to support and cooperate with the library in developing library services and facilities for the community; to raise money for approved library projects; to lend legislative support where needed; and to support the freedom to read as expressed in the American Library Association Bill of Rights.
